GALLUP®

CliftonStrengths™

Strengths Insight and Action-Planning Guide

SURVEY COMPLETION DATE: 01-10-2018

DON CLIFTON

Father of Strengths Psychology and Inventor of CliftonStrengths

© 2000, 2006-2012 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

SURVEY COMPLETION DATE: 01-10-2018

YOUR TOP 5 THEMES

1. Focus
2. Significance
3. Intellection
4. Analytical
5. Learner

© 2000, 2006-2012 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

Section I: Awareness

Focus

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Focus theme can take a direction, follow through, and make the corrections necessary to stay on track. They prioritize, then act.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

Chances are good that you sometimes may be bothered by people who wander aimlessly from one activity to another or from one idea to another. Perhaps you prefer collaborating with individuals who know what they want to accomplish in the coming weeks, months, years, or decades. When they understand how they are going to reach each objective, you might be more inclined to partner with them. Because of your strengths, you desire to dictate the circumstances of your existence. You refuse to be a victim. You aim to leave your mark on the world. Although you want to be in charge of everything, you realize this is unrealistic. Why? You sense you are somehow linked to every human being on the planet. Whatever you choose to do or not do affects them. Their choices eventually affect you. You walk a tightrope between needing to manage every part of your life and knowing this is impossible. Instinctively, you keep your assignments and projects on track by setting weekly objectives. You concentrate on these goals until they are attained. By nature, you normally direct most of your talent, energy, effort, and reasoning to the task at hand. Your good judgment probably allows you to establish long-term goals that are truly worthy of your undivided attention. It's very likely that you take charge of your future. You are determined to shape it as you wish. You probably spend a lot of time thinking about your goals. You are driven to create the experiences you desire. You tend to agree with the notion "If you can think it, you can make it happen."

QUESTIONS

1. As you read your personalized strengths insights, what words, phrases, or lines stand out to you?
2. Out of all the talents in this insight, what would you like for others to see most in you?

Depending on the order of your themes and how you responded to the assessment, some of your themes may share identical insight statements. If this occurs, the lower ranked theme will not display insight statements to avoid duplication on your report.

© 2000, 2006-2012 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

Significance

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Significance theme want to be very important in the eyes of others. They are independent and want to be recognized.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

It's very likely that you yearn to be held in high esteem. You want people to regard you as trustworthy, competent, and accomplished. You probably entertain ideas about doing things so much better that these individuals have to notice. By nature, you are eager to welcome people who are quite different from the majority of human beings. They, like you, probably are driven to distinguish themselves from the crowd. You want influential individuals to notice your strong work ethic and reward your high productivity. This explains why you avoid teaming with people who are lazy, unmotivated, average, lackadaisical, or mediocre. Driven by your talents, you set definite goals for yourself. These performance objectives allow you to exercise control over the events in your life. They also influence many of the choices you make. Instinctively, you act like a rival when you are pitted against others and only one person can be declared the very best at something. Your deep-seated desire to finish in first place probably drives many of your choices and explains much of your behavior. Chances are good that you regularly look for ways to enhance your speaking talents. Why? You really want people to hear what you are thinking or feeling.

QUESTIONS

1. As you read your personalized strengths insights, what words, phrases, or lines stand out to you?
2. Out of all the talents in this insight, what would you like for others to see most in you?

Depending on the order of your themes and how you responded to the assessment, some of your themes may share identical insight statements. If this occurs, the lower ranked theme will not display insight statements to avoid duplication on your report.

© 2000, 2006-2012 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

Intellection

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Intellection theme are characterized by their intellectual activity. They are introspective and appreciate intellectual discussions.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

Chances are good that you are determined to push for changes that will benefit humankind or Earth itself. Your desire to have an impact motivates you to enter into conversations with intelligent people. Drawing on their wealth of knowledge and ideas as well as sharing your treasure trove of wisdom is exciting. These discussions frequently cause you to think in new ways and to reexamine your purpose in life. Instinctively, you commonly reflect on tomorrow's possibilities and their potential impact on your life. Understandably, you seek the company of intelligent, forward-looking individuals. You talk with them. You listen. You ask questions. You offer your own ideas. Every step of the way, you keep pulling together intriguing bits of information that can help you shape your future. There are thoughts you treasure even though they are not immediately useful. Because of your strengths, you often find yourself contemplating your obligations. Your promises to others are of paramount importance to you. Thorough by nature, you carefully consider what you need to do. As a result, you can be relied upon to explore many angles before acting. It's very likely that you have new ideas whirling around in your head much of the time. You are very interested in solving problems, conceiving new concepts, designing plans, or understanding everyday matters. By nature, you gravitate to serious conversations where people exchange ideas, concepts, or theories. You avoid small talk, rumors, and gossip. Considering all the information you have gathered, you decide what is and is not worth remembering. You have a way of cataloging knowledge so you can quickly recall it later.

QUESTIONS

1. As you read your personalized strengths insights, what words, phrases, or lines stand out to you?
2. Out of all the talents in this insight, what would you like for others to see most in you?

Depending on the order of your themes and how you responded to the assessment, some of your themes may share identical insight statements. If this occurs, the lower ranked theme will not display insight statements to avoid duplication on your report.

© 2000, 2006-2012 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

Analytical

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Analytical theme search for reasons and causes. They have the ability to think about all the factors that might affect a situation.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

Chances are good that you enjoy devoting your mental energy to thought-provoking activities. Usually these tasks force you to rely on reason and rational thinking. Instinctively, you frequently examine the factors leading up to an event. Therein you discover the reasons why things happened the way they did. A number of individuals and/or groups probably appreciate your logical thinking style. By nature, you may mull over ideas or plans before making important choices in life. Perhaps you appreciate people who grant you ample time to arrive at your own conclusions. It's very likely that you typically design repetitious patterns for handling the mundane, yet necessary, parts of your life. You probably have methodical ways for paying bills, shopping for groceries, making appointments, preparing for meetings, exercising, or moving through your day. Because of your strengths, you try to collect pertinent and precise data. You may refuse to stop searching until you find accurate facts. You might collect information that is relevant to your life, your work, or your studies.

QUESTIONS

1. As you read your personalized strengths insights, what words, phrases, or lines stand out to you?
2. Out of all the talents in this insight, what would you like for others to see most in you?

Depending on the order of your themes and how you responded to the assessment, some of your themes may share identical insight statements. If this occurs, the lower ranked theme will not display insight statements to avoid duplication on your report.

© 2000, 2006-2012 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

Learner

SHARED THEME DESCRIPTION

People who are especially talented in the Learner theme have a great desire to learn and want to continuously improve. In particular, the process of learning, rather than the outcome, excites them.

YOUR PERSONALIZED STRENGTHS INSIGHTS

What makes you stand out?

Instinctively, you are diligent about examining what needs to be revamped, revised, modified, or fixed. When you are absorbed in these activities, hours pass quickly. You can dedicate yourself to correcting a single problem, especially when it directly and dramatically affects you. You probably read, listen, observe, discuss, experiment, and experience as much as you can to fill your mind with fresh ideas. Chances are good that you have little difficulty giving intense effort to projects, problems, or opportunities that capture and keep your attention. Driven by your talents, you prefer to register for rigorous courses of study rather than take easy classes. This often satisfies your need to do things that do not come naturally. You trust you can endure the unpleasantness and difficulties that accompany the expansion of your knowledge base, the acquisition of skills, and the conquest of deficiencies. By nature, you concentrate for extended periods of time. This is one reason why you ultimately master skills and grasp concepts. It's very likely that you often spend considerable time examining the details underpinning an idea. Rather than rush through your research, you typically stick with it until you are convinced everything makes sense.

QUESTIONS

1. As you read your personalized strengths insights, what words, phrases, or lines stand out to you?
2. Out of all the talents in this insight, what would you like for others to see most in you?

Depending on the order of your themes and how you responded to the assessment, some of your themes may share identical insight statements. If this occurs, the lower ranked theme will not display insight statements to avoid duplication on your report.

© 2000, 2006-2012 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.